Animal 9 is looking better here because a trial is regarded as successful if the animal stopped at EITHER R1 or R2. And, there is no suction here. This also makes things a lot harder. Suction is only introduced when we end the DR phase. 006 had it from the beginning, also in the DR phase.

This should be a good example of a trial. Although I think the staytime is a bit high, but it's a proper choice in mind that everything is going well.
